Patentability report

Scope of search:

Patentability -

Prior art of particular relevance that might indicate that the disclosed invention cannot be considered novel or cannot be considered to involve an inventive step.

The Invention features or draft claims:

1. Eyeglass wipers
2. Electrically powered
3. Attaching clipping mechanism

Report findings:

An online version of the report can be viewed by following the links below.

The patent links will be opened in a new window with a dedicated professional system for creating patent search reports called reporteditor[™]. The system allows the search specialist to edit and deliver a clear and simple display of the report documents. Reports can be easily downloaded, printed or sent to any third party from the system.

[X] - Document of particular relevance; the disclosed invention cannot be considered novel or cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is taken alone.

[Y] - Document of particular relevance; the disclosed invention cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is combined with one or more other such documents, such combination being obvious to a person skilled in the art.

[A] - Document defining the general state of the art which is not considered to be of particular relevance

Report limitations:

- The documents have each been given the category X, Y or A according to the information specialist opinion. Nevertheless, we recommend that each document shall be analysed further by a patent attorney.
- We did our best to cite the most relevant documents but please note:
 - Patents are usually published, and therefore can be cited, only 18 months after their filings.
 - The art of searching is not an exact science and can never provide 100% of certainty.
- The information provided in our reports is for information purposes only and does not constitute a legal opinion of any type.
- The search was done for the purpose of evaluation whether a patent application should be filed and it cannot be used alone for evaluating the Freedom To Operate or infringement risks.
- Any prior art that was reported as known to the client before the search is excluded from the report.
